Guided reading

Next week in guided reading we are looking at poetry. In order to be prepared for our poem, we want you to do a vocabulary search. After you have found the meanings of the words, draw a picture to represent them.

We will also be looking at a new language technique called homophones. This is when two words have the same pronunciation but different meanings. Can you spot any in your vocabulary list?

Try and think of your own examples

The websites below will help you and your parent with ideas for where to find definitions:
